Subject: Access to Residences During the April 2-3 Strike

Dear SCFA Members,

In response to our query, on behalf of one of our members, about access to faculty housing, a representative from the UAW sent us the following clarification:

Although the UAW has never blocked access to campus, in the event that others go beyond the picket line, it has always been our policy that people be able to access their residences. We will be actively making sure that people can access their residences during our strike this week.

We are working hard to make sure that the university is a livable place for all people with families.

We hope that this information is helpful, and encourage members to share it with the broader campus community.
